WORK FOR SOCIALISM.

Eleven Reasons Which Every Worker Should Consider.

Because it means freedom to labor. Because it will wipe out private ownership of the means of life by the capitalist class.

Because it means full life for all who labor and do their share of the world's work.

Because it will abolish poverty and unemployment.

Because it will resume, in the name of the whole people, what the collective and social labor of the whole of the working society has evolved and produced.

Because it will give equal opportunity to all to develop their bodies and brains to the full, and enable men and women to live decent and human lives.

Because it's a question, "Who's going to own the world—the working class or the capitalist class?"

Because capitalism is responsible for the crises, panics, war and slaughter, which keep the world a perpetual hell upon earth.

Because the working class produces all the world's wealth, which the capitalist class owns, and only returns to the workers in the shape of wages a portion of what labor alone can produce.

Because, so long as capitalist private ownership of the earth and the means of life remain insecure and poverty face the majority of the human race.

Because Socialism must come; and the party fighting for it is the Socialist Labor party.

PASSING FILMS.

Thrown on the Political Canvas for the Guidance of the Worker.

The whole world-wide social evil in one word: "Slavery."

The most terse and correct definition of slavery in human language—a living wage.

Apart from untoward happenings such as floods, droughts, etc., that is exactly what the chattel slave had, and he had no need to worry; he was guaranteed that.

The chief difference between the chattel and the "wage" variety of slave is that the modern slave owner cannot guarantee a living wage to his slave—or even any wage at all.

Those who deny that slavery exists here and now can only arrive at that conclusion by denying the evidence of their own senses. They have a strong family resemblance to the defendant in a case recorded in American history. Eli Whitney proceeded against a certain firm for pirating his famous invention, the cotton gin.

The defendant stoutly denied the alleged piracy, while, in common with every other person in court, could distinctly hear the peculiar sound of Whitney's machine going full rip in defendant's works not twenty yards away. The attitude of that defendant is the same as that of both Republican and Democratic parties alike, they both lack the same lying doctrine—"Slavery does not exist."

The capitalist, as such, does not produce any wealth (value). If he takes part in the work, then in that case, he reckons as one average laborer—no more, no less; but as a capitalist, he has no right whatever to a single fraction of the wealth-value that labor alone produces.

That the workers should "take and hold" the whole product of their labor, and thereby abolish the institution of social wrong that awards the bulk of labor's product to idlers, is the economic and political platform of the S. L. P. All who understand and believe in it have a clear and bounden duty to perform: Vote its state ticket straight, under the Arm and Hammer.

"Anita," it was stated, in a recent scientific lecture, "rank next to man in intelligence." "The Amazon ants," continued the lecturer, "have developed a slave trade, and are entirely dependent upon these slaves for their food supplies." Probably this was what Solomon meant when he said, "Go to the ant, thou sluggard."

The "sluggard" referred to, of course, is the idle possessing class, which was thus advised to get on the level of the ants, and live on the labor of slaves. Anyhow, that's what they do. It's time, though, that the wage slaves developed more intelligence than the ant slaves. Why remain on the level of the insects, fellow workers? Exchange your manhood, and organize in the S. L. P. and the industrial union to end your slavery.

We cannot have contact in contact with "superior" people who laugh to scorn the Socialist principle of economic and social equality, and we invariably find them in the regions of logic and reasoning power, very inferior not only in sociology, but in any other scientific direction; they are not on a complete par with the prejudice called "common sense."

We are neither anti-Japanese, anti-Chinese, anti-Negro, anti-British, anti-German, anti-French, nor anti any other people or race; we are anti-capitalistic and pro-labor. We have only one friend—the worker; and one enemy—the capitalist, no matter what race, creed or color.

—Weekly People.

Another interesting fact thrown up by the present British elections is the candidacy at Plymouth of Waldorf Astor, son of the American multi-millionaire, William Waldorf Astor.

What party was Waldorf Astor a candidate? Surely not of the Socialist, or of the Labor party, but certainly of the Liberal and anti-Labor party? Not at all. He was a candidate of the extreme pro-Labor party, and was elected.

Thus American dollars, sweated by American labor, go across to Europe to all the wheels of a campaign that flies in the teeth of the political principles of the American Revolution. Is this a case of Astor retrogression? Not at all. It is a case that illustrates the tenacity of bad instincts.

The American Revolution, the Astors, clustered around Trinity church, prayed, not for George Washington, but for George III.

The pietistic words—"man does not live of bread only"—which have lately figured extensively in the speeches of Republicans and Democrats addressed to hungry workers, are about to be amended. James H. Hoyt, a Cleveland lawyer speaking at the dinner of the St. Nicholas society at Delmonico's on the 13th of this month said: "Why, in the name of heaven, should we hate the rich? The rich buy pictures to put them where the poor can see them." The original economies of phrase-using capitalism was to the effect that the workers would live on air; the present amendment is to the effect that they can live on pictures—quite as undigestible as a diet of air, hot, tepid, or cold.—People.

"EXPRESSIO UNIUS," ETC.

Born of vast and profound experience is the maxim that has come down to our times in the Latin tongue:—"Expressio unius, suppressio alterius" (to express one thing is to suppress the other thing).

The time to which resolutions by the bushel are being adopted by the Socialist party is the time for the liberation of Fred D. Warren of the "Appeal to Reason."

None more emphatically than the Socialist Labor party will pronounce Warren's conviction a piece of injustice; consequently, none more emphatically would demand his liberation. For that very reason none more emphatically than the S. L. P. spurns a move that, by "expressing" Warren only, "suppresses" Preston.

The suffering, in the sense that all are entitled to redress; that all touch a chord to which good sense and conscience must respond. Injustice smote Preston; so it did Warren.

Matters of justice that the act in pursuit of abstract order, while the act for which Preston suffers was an act in pursuit of concrete rights; it matters not that the injustice that smote Warren overtook him in the endeavor to bring redress to the upon the head of a capitalist politician for a crime committed upon another ditto, while the injustice that smote Preston overtook him in the endeavor to assert the rights of the Working Class; it matters not that the injustice that smote Warren was incurred for meddling in a feud between bourgeois, while the injustice Preston suffers was incurred for standing on the firing line in the class struggle between the Exploiter and the Exploited. All this matters not—in so far as the fact of injustice is concerned. While distinction should be made, while distinction should be made, as to the relative value to the Socialist Movement of the act that Warren and the act that Preston suffers for, unquestionably giving the palm of merit to Preston, one and the other is a victim of capitalist misrule.

To "express" Warren only and "suppress" Preston is to do injustice while clamoring for justice. It is to do worse. It is to throw upon the injustice, under which Preston pines, the mantle of approval that silence implies—an approval in this instance, that lays the axe to the very root of the Socialist or Labor Movement.—Weekly People.

THE ANTI-SUGAR TRUST BILL.

The long expected bill of complaint in the Government's suit to dissolve the Sugar Trust was filed at last in the United States Circuit Court.

While the bill is making the unskillful laugh with joy, it can not but make the judicious groan.

The bill recites a long list of allegations. These are meant to be charges. Yet the charges read more like "points" for an address, or an article, upon "The Natural Development of Business from the Little Country Store to the Large Modern Plant of Industry."

Step by step, or "point" by "point," a stage of industrial growth is recorded; and each stage, though the bill does not so specify, suggests some existing law that the respective stage rendered necessary and inevitable. Not a "point" is cited the legality of which is not deeply imbedded in the legislation of modern society. Not a "point" is cited the observance of which does not pass current as an evidence of business push and thrift in the individual business concern. Not a "point" is cited, which, if branded with criminality, would not cause any and every business concern to become impossible. In short, the "points" cited in the bill are so many "bricks" reared one upon the other, that they have come, and the indictment is drawn up upon the silent principle that, while any one of the bricks is legitimate, all of them together constitute a tort.

Did we say the bill should make the judicious groan? Not quite so. The bill is of a nature to cause both the unskillful and the judicious to rejoice—each for a different reason.

The unskillful will rejoice believing the bill will be effective. To them the bill is a "first step" to disprove Socialism, and to prove that Capitalism has within itself the means to correct its "defects" and "abuses."

The judicious will rejoice realizing that the bill is, in fact, an indictment of Capitalism. It demonstrates the evils that lie latent in each stage of capitalist development, and which do not come to the surface until the structure is complete, whereupon it is condemned by the very element that sang the praises of its separate parts as veritable ideals of civic virtue and enterprise. The judicious will furthermore rejoice because they know the bill is, in the end and in substance bound to fail. Not the damning needle of the Reformer, but the sharp scissars of the Revolutionist is the weapon fit to remove evils that lie in the very woof of a social system.

In the meantime the bill will travel its devious, labyrinthine way, report and counter-report in the press of its friends, until they themselves can not tell whether they stand on their feet or their heads. It will then be dropped for some other mare's-nest.—Exchange.

GRUESOME FIND BY ZION POLICE

SALT LAKE, Dec. 30.—The body of Israel Spitz, 62 years old, proprietor of the Novelty Utility company, 71 South West Temple street, was found this morning in a room used as a bedroom, and back of the store, in a shocking state of decomposition. Spitz had evidently been dead since Monday night.

From what has been learned, it is believed that the apoplexy was the cause of death. There were no indications of foul play or violence, and it is not thought that an inquest will be necessary.

The discovery of Spitz's body was made by Police Sergeant Henry Johnson and Patrolman Carstensen, who were called to the store by Fred Smith, a solicitor employed by Spitz. Smith went to the store Tuesday morning and found it locked, as though it had not been opened or business. He returned Tuesday noon and again found it locked, but the place was still locked and bolted.

Smith visited the store three times Wednesday and three times yesterday, believing all the time that perhaps Spitz might have been away on a holiday visit.

But when he went to the store this morning and found it still locked up his suspicions were aroused, and he called the attention of Patrolman Carstensen to the condition and asked an investigation. Patrolman Carstensen notified Duty Sergeant Johnson, and the two, accompanied by Smith, started a search.

The policemen found the doors and windows locked. Entrance was finally gained through the rear door, which was unlocked with a pass key. A pane of glass was broken to permit the shooting bolt of the door to be turned.

The moment the men entered the little back room the horrible odor that filled the air warned them that something was wrong. They pushed into the room and saw the body of Spitz crumpled up on the bed. Spitz had evidently been in the act of disrobing when he was stricken. When he fell back to the bed his body was partly buried in the folds of a huge feather mattress.

The policemen, after making an examination of the place and assuring themselves that nothing had been disturbed or was missing, notified O'Donnell & Co., undertakers, who removed the body.

Israel Spitz was a native of Hungary and came to the United States in 1870, coming to Salt Lake City six years later. He was for ten or twelve years engaged in farming a little tract of land on the other side of the Jordan river, but abandoned that afterward and entered the sewing machine business in this city.

Spitz later entered in the household utilities business, employing agents and canvassers as salesmen. He is survived by a widow and two sons, Samuel and David, who are interested in the Salt Lake Ice company.

The arrangements for the funeral will not be made until tomorrow.

JOHNSON AGAIN READY FOR RING

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 30.—Jack Johnson, heavyweight champion pugilist of the world, is willing to fight any man in the world under the auspices of Hugh D. McIntosh, provided he receives $50,000, win, lose or draw.

Johnson signified his willingness to engage in a battle under these conditions in an interview today with Henry Messier, who is the United States representative for McIntosh.

Johnson further stated that the same conditions which governed the match between himself and Tommy Burns in Australia must be included in any fighting articles. He denies having received any offer from a Paris syndicate with regard to a contest.

A Handsome Hair Dressing

But Easy to Do

STYLE B. SEE NOTE.

Model and Instructions by MADAM LULU BUTLER
Principal, The Madam Butler School of Beautifying Arts, Detroit, Michigan.

Style B. The hair is waved on each side of the parting and over the crown of the head. The ends of the waved hair are then brought half way up between the nape of the neck and the crown of the head and arranged in puffs and ringlets. The main body of the hair is brought below the nape of the neck and braided into two braids. These braids are crossed and brought around the head. The curls or puffs are allowed to drop across the back. This arrangement is without the use of rats, frames or false hair.

To Have Beautiful Hair Use
Newbro's Herpicide

No woman can afford to be indifferent to the appearance of her hair. A mass of nice snappy hair, becomingly dressed will add more in genuine good looks than a pretty face, or an expensive gown. Don't allow the scalp to become clogged with dirt and dandruff. Don't let the Dandruff Germ destroy your hair. If your hair is uneven, dead, dull and brittle and comes out by the handful every time you draw a comb through it, the germ is there. To kill that germ and check the loss of hair should be your first anxiety. Newbro's Herpicide will do this and at the same time put the hair and scalp in a sanitary condition. Herpicide appeals to those of greatest refinement on account of its exquisite odor, its purity and cleanliness. It contains no grease and does not stain or dye. There is nothing more dependable than this remarkable scalp prophylactic. The hair responds readily to a regular and intelligent use of Newbro's Herpicide. Try it and see.

Send ten cents today to the Herpicide Company, Dept. 47B, Detroit, Michigan, for a sample and a booklet telling all about the hair.

For Sale at All Drug Stores. One Dollar Size Bottles are Guaranteed.

The Herpicide Co., have arranged with the leading hair dressers of the Country to furnish models with description of the latest and most approved modes in hair dressing. Ladies who adopt these styles, will enjoy the satisfaction of being in perfect vogue.

WHY IT SUCCEEDS.

Because it's for One Thing Only, and Ogdens People Appreciate This.

Nothing can be good for everything. Doing one thing well brings success.

Doan's Kidney Pills do one thing only. They cure backache, every kidney ailment.

Here is Ogdens evidence to prove it. James Rennie, 2974 Washington Ave., Ogdens, Utah, says: "Since I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills in 1906, I have had no further need of a kidney remedy. The contents of two boxes of this preparation, procured from BADCON'S PHARMACY, effected a complete and permanent cure. For nearly five years I suffered from a constant pain across the small of my back, and through my left side. The kidney secretions were unnatural and irregular in passage and plainly showed that I had kidney complaint. Doan's Kidney Pills went at once to the seat of my trouble and restored my kidneys to a normal condition. I induced one of my relatives to use Doan's Kidney Pills, and he afterward informed me that they were the best kidney medicine he had ever taken."

turned to Hall on the afternoon train and walked out to the camp. Lockaby claims that after Miller's arrival at the tent occupied by the partners, he started to dissolve a meal for Miller, and that when he went for wood to replenish the fire, Miller followed him outside, and picking up an ax, made an attack on him. Lockaby managed to dodge the blow and ran back to the tent, followed by Miller, who still brandished the ax.

The pursued man picked up his revolver, and turning, fired a shot, which struck his assailant's watch pocket, shattering the watch, but neither injuring nor stopping the man. A second shot took effect in the left side, penetrating the lungs, while a third entered the body on the right side.

Immediately after the shooting Lockaby ran out to the men working several hundred yards away, told what he had done and started for Hall, where he told his story to the sheriff here over the telephone, and started on foot for Phillipsburg. On his arrival, County Attorney Moore hastily organized a party and went to the camp, where they found Miller's body in the tent. Both hands were clutched tightly over the handle of the ax.
